EASTER PILGRIMAGE

Twenty-two Saint Michaelites and friends are on pilgrimage to Greece and Turkey this Easter. I think we all feel enormously blessed to be able to travel to the holy lands, to learn, to enjoy one another's company, and to be inspired.

There is often a fine line between tourism - mostly a spectator activity - and being a pilgrim; I think we're pleased to be mostly the latter. The historic lands, the cathedrals, the village monasteries, the biblical sites will show us the vital life of the Greeks and the Turks.

In preparation for our adventure, my own Lenten journey and Easter pilgrimage has been brightened anew with fresh understandings of the Orthodox traditions. One such tradition is an unusual ritual in the closing days of their journey to Easter. A large religious icon that measures nearly three feet wide and six feet long is placed horizontally on two pedestals within a relatively small room. Elevated a few feet from the ground with open space beneath it, the icon is about the size of a burial vault lid. The similarity to a tomb or grave is not accidental. Persons who wish to venerate the icon enter the room and bend low enough to walk in a crouching position underneath the icon. Then, emerging on the other side of the icon, they rise and leave. For these worshipers during the concluding portion of the journey to Easter, it is like entering into the death and the resurrection of Jesus. They descend into his death, and they rise with him in life.

As the bells ring out during Easter season and persons are renewed in the waters of baptism, the church proclaims that Christ's resurrection has set us free from the powers of fear, sin, and death. Good Friday reveals our worst to ourselves. In the hollow hush of that dark noon, echo all the hurt and despair of humanity. It is the descending posture beneath the icon. Easter reveals God at the divine One's best, bringing new life out of death. It is the act of rising on the other side of the icon.

The resurrection calls us to be Easter People...People who can be with one another in the care and hospitality of that ever-widening expanse of grace. People who don't live in fear and scarcity but in a community of hope who share God's abundance...People who are not resigned to the status quo of this world but committed to doing God's work of peace and reconciliation...People who are not content with mere self-interest but committed to reaching out to others - even the stranger - in the name of the risen Christ.

Join us during this Great Fifty Days of Easter proclamation, joy and service. We invite your deeper participation in worship, prayer, study and action. Christ is risen. Christ is risen, indeed!

Honduras Mission Trip Touches Thousands

The Saint Michael Mission Trip to Honduras on February 25 touched thousands of lives in a short one week period of time.

More than 20 Saint Michael parishioners led by Fr. Kevin Huddleston, Grady Schleier, and George Baldwin pitched-in to help with several building projects, Christian Education, and health and wellness programs.

The results:

- Applied fluoride to the teeth of more than 400 children
- Prepared and served lunch to 175 children
- Helped construct a road at a local school
- Initiated construction and renovation of a local parishioner's home
- Provided reading classes to 100 people
- Visited six micro-finance projects Saint Michael helped fund
- Served as prayer partners to 24 senior citizens
- Painted a door mural and attended the dedication of a new school cafeteria

Introducing the Parish Concert Series: Saint Michael Presents

Dear Friends,

I am pleased to announce the launch of Saint Michael Presents, the parish's new concert series beginning this fall!

The series has been a couple of years in the making. In that time Saint Michael offered two concerts: the first was a concert and interfaith service on September 11, 2011, the ten-year anniversary of 9/11; the second was a Christmas program last December featuring The Arts District Chorale, The Greater Dallas Children's Chorus, Saint Michael's music directors James Diaz and Hyeon Jeong, as organists, and orchestra. Both of these concerts drew a spectacular audience of over 900 people, requiring overflow seating in the side ambulatory and narthex of our main church. Not only did the concerts enjoy wonderful attendance, but they also brought many new people inside Saint Michael's walls who otherwise would not have had the occasion to visit our parish.

Out of the great success of these two events came the desire to make concerts like these a regular parish offering. Saint Michael Presents intends to do just that by hosting two concerts in the 2013-14 series. The concerts will seek to have broad appeal to the parish and community and offering programs of high artistic merit. Like other church concert series, Saint Michael Presents will rely on the generosity of people who have a heart for the performing arts as a unique avenue of outreach ministry. Would you like to support a ministry that brings new people to Saint Michael? An estimated 75 percent of our concert attendees were visitors to our church. Do you love hearing great music in a great space? Our church is not only an inspiring worship space, but its uniquely effective acoustics have inspired performers and listeners alike.

In the next few weeks, you will see more information about how you can support this exciting new endeavor. The concert committee will be inviting you to support this ministry at various levels of giving. In the meantime, I hope you will join me in spreading the word about this thrilling new chapter of Saint Michael's musical history!

With my sincere thanks,

Saint Michael's Farmers Market Opens Saturday, April 27

The second season for the Saint Michael's Farmers Market will open on Saturday, April 27 with several new vendors and many market favorites from last season. The market, located at 8011 Douglas at Colgate, will be set up on the church's north parking lot every Saturday morning through November 2. The hours will be from 8:00 to 12-Noon, rain or shine

More than 30 vendors have committed to providing a wide variety of produce, fruits, vegetables, and specialty foods and breads. New this year is a concession area where shoppers can buy coffee, sno cones, and drinks, as well as a covered "cool zone" with tables to escape the summer heat. There will also be a new playground with swings, slides, and playscape for children.

"Last year the Saint Michael's Farmers Market became a Saturday morning gathering place, and with the new amenities and the great group of vendors, the market will be even more exciting. Our vendors use natural, sustainable, or organic practices and their products are grown or produced within a 150 mile radius of Dallas," said the market's director Nancy Powers.

Saint Michael Rector, Dr. Bob Dannals, said that the market is a non-profit community outreach ministry of the church. "We welcome everyone from the community to come meet their neighbors, enjoy a leisurely Saturday morning and take home some good healthy food. There is a lot more to Saint Michael than Sunday morning worship services."

In addition to fruits and vegetables, the market will feature fresh pasture raised beef and chicken, seafood, eggs, cheeses, olive oil, baked goods, honey, canned goods, jellies and tamales. To help meet and greet contact Brenda at bsol@saintmichael.org or signup online at www.saintmichael.org/smfmvolunteers/

Who is There for You? Saint Michael's Stephen Ministry is Ready!

Often the best thing someone can do, when he or she hits hard times, is identify people that are reliable, who will step up and give a listening ear, without expecting anything in return. Stephen Ministers do just that.

It was a personal crisis that eventually led Jon Davis to become a part of the Stephen Ministry:

"I'm really glad I reached out in our time of need," said Jon, "Usually, I won't even ask strangers for directions, so that kind of reaching out,.... for help,.... is definitely not like me."

Stephen Ministers provide confidential one-to-one Christian care to folks. The Stephen Minister meets with the care receiver for about an hour a week to listen, care, encourage, pray, and provide emotional and spiritual support. These caring relationships last for as long as the need persists.

"I wish more people would reach out in times of need," said The Rev. Lisa Flores, "With such a large congregation, it's really important that folks stay in touch," she said.

Two new Stephen Leaders, Jon Davis and Jean Coleman, were commissioned during the 11:00 service on March 10. They have been through 50 hours of specialized training in Christian caregiving and join other trained members of the Stephen Ministry at Saint Michael And All Angels Episcopal Church. Parishioners currently serving as Stephen Ministers are: Madelyn

Brinkley, Bob Buchanan, Pam Busbee, Mark Demler, Julia Denegre, Debbie Fosdick, Mary Kardell, Susan Kourim, Judy Lomax, Catherine Marrs, Steve McKenney, Michele Mrak, Kathy O'Doherty, Rick Porter, Carol Price, Susie Ryan, Bob Smith, Mary Ann Webster, and Sheryl Wylie. In addition to Jean Coleman and Jon Davis, parishioners on the Leadership Team include: Craig Canon, Harriet Cousins, Bennett Cullum, Frank Guenther, Dana Juett, Elizabeth Lang, Bill McGannon, Katherine Penn, and Charlie Smith.

For more information about how one is paired with a Stephen Minister, please contact Lisa, Flores lflores@saintmichael.org. All inquiries are strictly confidential.

Prayer Bear Joins Prayer Shawls in Delivering Care and Comfort

For years shawls lovingly knitted by members of the Prayer Shawl Ministry have brought comfort to the sick, the ailing, the lonely. Now they will be joined in delivering care and comfort by Prayer Bears, made especially for the children facing serious illness or hospital stays.

Each bear comes with a card which says, "Whenever you feel sad or tired or scared or you are having a bad day, give your Prayer Bear a hug and let all the prayers and blessings and good thoughts enter into your heart. May you always know that you are loved and cared for by the people of Saint Michael and All Angels."

The first Prayer Bears have been knitted by Madalyn Teal and are being housed with The Rev. Lisa Flores, Associate for Pastoral Care.

Palm Sunday

Blustery weather did not chill the fervor of Palm Sunday as parishioners gathered under the ESD Porte Cochere to reenact Jesus' entry into Jerusalem. Following the Liturgy of the Palms, the crowd paraded to worship services initiating Holy Week.

Saint Michael Parishioner Needs Your Help

Danielle Stephens and her family need you in her fight against Leukemia. Recently Danielle was diagnosed with a rare form of blood cancer and needs a bone marrow transplant.

On Sunday, April 7, our Parish Nurse Ministry and the University Park Friends of the Stephens Family will sponsor a Bone Marrow Registry drive at Saint Michael and All Angels. The drive will be from 12-Noon to 6:00 in Parish Hall.

Danielle, a SMU graduate, wife and mother of two is confident a bone marrow donor will be found. "I am too positive to be doubtful, too optimistic to be fearful, and too determined to be defeated," she says. Her husband Chad said, "We know it will be a fight... and we are ready."

It only takes four minutes to register and only involves a cheek swab. Anyone in good general health, ages 18-55, is a potential donor. Materials and information concerning Bone Marrow donation and transplants will be available along with other materials in support of Donate Life Month. If you have questions, contact Dianne Boyd, RN, at dboyd@saintmichael.org. Or, to learn more about how to register as a bone marrow donor, visit www.deletebloodcancer.org.

Not Afraid of Darwin or Christ: Theology, Evolution, and Human Nature An Adult Formation sponsored webinar from Princeton Theological Seminary

Wednesday, April 17,
6:00 – 7:30
Coke Activities Room

Can Science and religion coexist? Should Christians be afraid of Darwin, or scientists afraid of Christ? These and other provocative questions will be tackled Wednesday evening, April 17, beginning at 6:00 in the Coke Activities Room.

Two dynamic professors at Princeton's Center of Theological Study will lead the webinar:

Dr. Conor Cunningham, a specialist in Darwinism, evolution, metaphysics, and systematic theology at the University of Nottingham, England:

Dr. Agustin Fuentes, a primatologist and biological anthropologist at the University of Notre Dame.

The professors will explore: What is Theology & What is Evolution; Why some Christians fear Darwin, and some scientists fear Christ; and, the interface between faith, knowledge, and the quest for understanding.

To be a part of this free webinar register with Shelly Vescovo, Adult Formation Director, at svescovo@saintmichael.org, or 214-363-5471. To learn more about the webinar: www.ptsem.edu/notafraid.

icling Bob's serious injuries in Iraq in 2006, when he was the ABC evening news anchor.

Following the luncheon there will be a book signing with Ms. Woodruff at the St. Michael Woman's Exchange in Highland Park Village beginning at 1:30.

Overview

Renovation of Teen Place Underway

Renovation of Jubilee Park's youth and teen center, soon to be called Teen Place, was launched Saturday, March 2 with a groundbreaking, or more appropriately a wall busting. The "facelift" is being financed by a $100,000 gift from Plains Capital Corporation.

Teen Place is one of the two original homes built through a partnership with Saint Michael and All Angels Church and Habitat for Humanity to house Jubilee's activities.

The renovation will expand the space to 1,850 square feet, give the building a more teen-oriented design, and will double the capacity of the computer lab.

Parishioner Leads "Dentistry With a Heart" Program

Dr. Roy Washburn, a parishioner and Usher Corp. member, led the recent "Dentistry With a Heart" program in which more than 80 low-income people received free dental care.

Over an 8-hour period one Saturday in February a dozen dentists and dental professionals cleaned teeth, treated cavities, and even extracted decayed teeth. Many of the patients were from the Jubilee Park Community. "It warms our hearts to provide free care for people whose oral health suffers because they don't have the insurance or means to take care of their teeth," said Dr. Washburn, whose practice hosted the event. "Dentistry With a Heart" is a loosely-affiliated movement of dentists who provide services to families that don't have access to basic dental care. Dr. Washburn and the dentist group works with the Park Cities Rotary Club and Highland Park Presbyterian Church to organize the annual event.

Discovery Weekend

If you are interested or know people who should become a part of the dynamic life at Saint Michael and All Angels join our Newcomers/Discovery Weekend Friday through Sunday April 19-21. Edge Mission Trip to Study Hunger

Don't let your fourth or fifth grader miss this life changing opportunity. The weekend of April 19, 20, 21 our tweens will be traveling to Waco to spend the weekend at The World Hunger Relief Farm, learning about world hunger and ways they can make a difference. After a weekend of hands on experience, the Edgers will return on Sunday to Saint Michael for a family Eucharist in the Garden Cloister. For more information visit the Saint Michael website under Children and Family Ministries or contact Suzanne at sfinan@saintmichael.org.

Disciples Retreat

Our year-end retreat is April 26-28 at Sky Ranch. Mark this on your calendars and make sure your coaches and dance instructors know you will be gone. This retreat will pay dividends. It is worth it for your child to attend the entire weekend.

We will be following up with you as the retreat nears to confirm attendance and collect some other information.

High School Students Start Life Groups

They're small, they're informal, they're unstructured. They're called Life Groups. That's what many Saint Michael High School students are doing on Wednesday nights.

"High School Life Groups are a wonderful opportunity for friends to get together and share the week's experiences, challenges, exciting news, and prayer requests," says youth minister, Carolina Armstrong.

Life groups are all about sharing faith and life in a different small group setting designed to bring young people closer together and closer to God. Meeting with the same small group of friends each week creates a unique environment for spiritual growth. Interested? Contact Carolina Armstrong at carmstrong@saintmichael.org.

Parents of Teens to Meet with Kathleen Fischer

"Heads, Hearts, and Hormones: Thinking about Teen Sexuality" will be the subject of a program for parents of teens presented by Kathleen Fischer on Sunday, April 14 at 5:00. Ms. Fisher is a well known educator and family coach, specializing in adolescent social, emotional, sexual, and relational development. Cost is $10.

Austin Mission Trip Information Meeting

The Austin Mission trip is going to be amazing. You want your child to experience this week of service.

On Sunday morning, April 14 at 10:00 all parents of 6th & 7th graders, and current 7th graders, are invited to join Andy in the youth center to hear about the upcoming Austin Mission trip. The presentation will include a detailed itinerary of the week, a time to ask questions, and a chance to meet some of the people we will be working with (through video).

All are welcome, even if you're not yet registered.

Children, Youth and Family Ministry

Barnyard Bash to Bring Families and Fun

The 22nd Annual Barnyard Bash for our youngest parishioners and their families will be held on Sunday, April 28. Barnyard Bash is designed to entertain our youngest parishioners with activities for children ages 0-6 years. Bring the whole family - grandparents, aunts and uncles, cousins, and godparents too.

We will have all of your children's favorites including a petting zoo, bounce houses, pony rides, a stocked fish tank, train rides, face painting, balloon artists, a button man and much, much more! Activities will be open from 4:30 to 6:30, with dinner being served until 7:00 to allow more time for fun.

E-Waste (electronic waste) is the most rapidly growing segment of the municipal waste stream. It is produced when electronic products from our homes, schools, and businesses become obsolete or no longer functional and need to be discarded. E-Waste contains many valuable, recoverable resources such as aluminum, copper, gold, silver, plastics and ferrous metals—all of which require considerable energy to process and manufacture. Recycling your old, unwanted electronics conserves natural resources, helps to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and pollution, and saves energy and raw material resources. Recycling also prevents the toxic chemicals found in electronic components (mercury, lead, cadmium, beryllium and chromium from leaching into our soil when landfilled.

Barb Wynn Marks 20th Anniversary

Barb Wynn, assistant director of the Saint Michael Preschool, celebrated 20 years at Saint Michael and All Angels in March.

A graduate of the University of North Texas with a degree in Child Development, she joined the Saint Michael staff in 1993 as a teacher in the Infant Class. Barb later taught 2 and 3 year old children and in 1997 was promoted to be assistant director of the preschool.

“The smiles, hugs and laughter from children warm my heart and bring me such joy,” Barb said “It is an amazing experience to have taught children in preschool who are now successful college students! It is a blessing to create such meaningful relationships with the children and parents of Saint Michael.”

Preschool Director Katie Riley said, “Providing our children a loving, nurturing environment has been Barb’s main goal for 20 years at our school. I am very grateful for everything she has done for Saint Michael Preschool in the past and look forward to all of the wonderful things she can do in the future.”
